

The International Morse code should be retained for all classes of amateur radio licenses.

It is a viable and usable means of communicating within the amateur radio service.

The Morse is a requirement set forth by the FCC, meet the requirement or go elsewhere.

The simplest mode: CW.

Retain the testing requirement for Morse code in the amateur radio service.